MODULE JEAN MONNET
Droit des relations extérieures de l'Union européenne
Law of the External Relations of the EU

The presentation turns to the EU's current ways of advancing gender equality and the economic empowerment of women through its trade policy, including treaty-making and trade-related legislation. It thereby distinguishes between

(1) the EU's interaction with non-EU actors and the EU's contribution to the dissemination of international law (eg CEDAW, ILO Conventions), and

(2) the EU's approach to the role of private stakeholders in advancing gender equality through trade.
